Dear Parents:

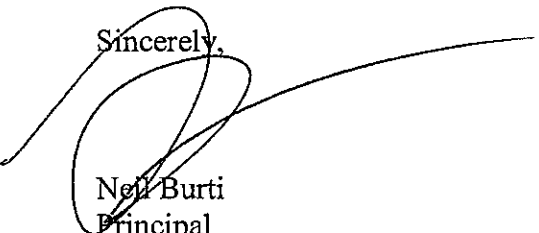

This morning at Bret Harte Elementary School, before the school day started, a written threat was discovered in the building. The Cherry Hill Police, who were already at the school as part of the district's increased police presence, began an immediate investigation. The SACC program was evacuated, students arriving for the school day were directed away from the building to a supervised area, and more police arrived at the school to assist in the investigation.

The police completed their investigation, deemed the building safe, and students and staff were permitted to go back into the building at approximately 9:45am. The school day is continuing as usual.

I would like to thank the Cherry Hill Police Department for their quick response. I also would like to thank the individuals who reported the threat.

Please feel free to call me if you have any questions.

Sincerely,

Neil Burti
Principal
